THE FIRST BALL TEAM

Of Professional Players, the Old Cincinnati Red Stockings.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE TEAM

Mr. A. B. Champion, Now a Wheeling Railway Magnate, Was Here Yesterday and Talks of That Never to be Forgotten Year of Sixty-Nine When the Team Went Through the Season Without Losing a Game, Their First Defeat.

Every school boy in the land who has played "hooky" so as to have the opportunity of witnessing a base ball game through the cracks of a park fence, can tell you of the achievements of the famous Cincinnati Red Stockings of 1869, the first professional ball team, and which went through the season of 1869 without losing a game, traveling all over the country from Maine to Cal.

One of the spectators at yesterday's game between Wheeling and Cincinnati was Mr. A. B. Champion, of Cincinnati, president of the Wheeling Street Railway Company. Mr. Champion was here to attend to business of his company. The interesting feature is the fact that Mr. Champion was the president of the Red Stockings, of '69, traveling the country over with that team during its victorious career. Yesterday's was the second game of base ball he has witnessed since 1870, when he retired from his connection with the Red Stockings. Last summer he saw a game between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, but before that he had not been in a ball park since 1870.

Mr. Champion was seen last evening and talked entertainingly of his old base ball experiences. The Red Stockings were organized in 1866, five hundred of the elite of the Queen City being enrolled as honorary members. It was then strictly an amateur organization with no paid players. It went through the season of '66 and '67 very successfully. In '68 there was great local rivalry between the Red Stockings and Buckeyes, of Cincinnati. In order to "lay out" the Reds the Buckeyes imported some players from New York. President Champion immediately packed his grip, tied himself to New York and secured paid players, robbing the best amateur organizations in the metropolis. At this period General Sir A. T. Goshorn, afterwards director general of the Philadelphia Centennial, was very active in the affairs of the Red Stockings, being Mr. Champion's principal colleague.

With the imported talent the Red Stockings simply slaughtered the Buckeyes and reigned supreme on the banks of the Ohio. Their fame spread abroad and the team in '69 made a tour of the principal cities of the country and won 140 games without losing one. Wheeling was one of the towns visited and the Baltics were defeated 66 to 6. Wherever the club went immense crowds gathered and the team was thought to be invincible.

In 1870 at Brooklyn they first met defeat at the hands of the Athletics, one of the best teams in the east, the score being 8 to 7. That game very nearly ended in a draw or a victory for the Reds by the umpire's decision. "Half of New York was there," says Mr. Champion in describing the game. "At the end of the ninth inning the score was a tie, 5 to 5. The Athletics were well enough satisfied to end the game that way and left the field. The umpire also went away in a carriage. I was present, and going down into the crowd hunted up the umpire and notified him that we wanted to continue play, and that if the Athletics came back and play was resumed amid great excitement. In the tenth our boys made two runs, and Mr. A. G. Mills, afterwards president of the National League, turned to me and remarked: 'Champion, you have won the game.' I said, 'You bet we have.' However, Atlantic came to bat and scored two runs with two out. The Atlantic pitcher was the next man at bat. He was counted a sure 'out', but knocked ball into the field. Our fielder had an easy chance to catch the ball, but the crowd, which had surged into the field, kept him from the ball and the Atlantic man scored, winning the game for Atlantic, our first defeat in over a year."

Mr. Champion drew up the first base ball contracts in the history of the game, which provided for the temperate habits of the players, hours of practice, etc. Before this the ball player was a very independent individual, says Mr. Champion. If he was playing a game of billiards at the hour a game was scheduled and did not feel like playing, he wouldn't play; he would continue at the ivory. Now it's different.

Fair Directors' Meeting.

The directors of the State Fair Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon, at which a good deal of miscellaneous business was transacted of no interest to the public. The grading of the track has been finished and the ditches cleaned out, and the management is only waiting for a good rain so the track can be harrowed and rolled. The secretary was ordered to take charge of the grounds at once. The rate for season driving tickets was fixed at $5 and bicycles $2. No bicycles will be allowed on the track between the hours of 5 and 8 o'clock p. m.

TWO SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENTS

One at the "Rough and Ready" and the Other at Oak Grove Houses.

Quite a pleasant school closing took place at No. 8 school house, Liberty district, or "Rough and Ready" as it is familiarly called, on Saturday last. The school, which had closed on Thursday, reassembled with a large crowd of spectators on Saturday, at 10 a. m., and listened to the following programme which was finely carried out:

Salutatory—Cynthia McSwords.
Dialogue—"Violets Answer."
Recitation—"The Old Farmhouse"—Flora Giffin.
Recitation—"Not So Easy"—Johnny Hahn.
Declaration—"Monie's Temptation"—Cecilia Giffin.
Declaration—"Frog Hollow Lyceum"—Cecilia Giffin.
Declaration—"The Little Cook"—Meta Seibert.
Declaration—"The Kiss in School"—Ed Maxwell.
Declaration—"The Trump"—George Seibert.
Declaration—"Green Mountain Justice"—Cecilia Giffin.
Declaration—"The Little Cook"—Meta Seibert.
Declaration—"The Kiss in School"—Ed Maxwell.
Declaration—"The Trump"—George Seibert.
Declaration—"Green Mountain Justice"—Cecilia Giffin.

"Closing Address"—Elsa Seibert.

At the close of the entertainment all sat down to a sumptuous dinner, to which all did justice.

Prizes were awarded as follows: To those securing most perfect marks, first grade, Cecil Timmons; second, Meta Seibert; third, Cynthia McSwords. In writing, first grade, Lelia Baldwin; second grade, Flora Giffin; third grade, Will Maxwell. There are three girls and two boys in the advanced grade who will graduate next year in the common school course. The teacher, Miss Lillie Maxwell, has reason to be proud of her work here.

Oak Grove Entertainment.

Last Friday was the last day of school at Oak Grove, in Triadelphia district, and quite a number of the friends and patrons of the school were present. The majority of the scholars were small and the programme was necessarily short.

The forenoon was occupied with the regular classes of that period, and the teacher, Miss Mary Lewis, gave them a pretty thorough review of what they had gone over. The answers were creditable to both teacher and pupils.

At noon a bounteous picnic dinner was spread, with which all expressed themselves well pleased.

After dinner the entertainment consisted of short recitations interspersed with songs by the children. The music was remarkably good.

A pleasant feature of the programme was the distribution of prizes. There were two prizes given for good attendance. Martha Robinson received the first prize and Paul Robinson the second. Quite a number of other prizes were distributed. Several of the spectators were called upon and responded in an entertaining manner. The exercises were closed with an address by Miss Lewis, which was certainly a praiseworthy effort and was highly appreciated by all who heard it.

REV. CHALFANT CELEBRATES

The Fourteenth Anniversary of His Pastorate, East End, Pittsburgh.

The following from the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph of last evening will be of interest to the friends of Rev. Chalfant in Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry:

This evening Rev. Dr. G. W. Chalfant will celebrate the fourteenth anniversary of his pastorate of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church, East End. Dr. Chalfant was born in Fayette county in 1830. He entered Washington and Jefferson College in 1853, and graduated from that institution. April 25, 1860, he was licensed to preach by the Presbytery of Kittanning. The Mechanicsburg Presbyterian church was his first charge, and there he continued from 1861 to 1862. In the latter year and the succeeding one he acted as chaplain of the One Hundred and Thirtieth and Eighty-fourth regiments during the war of the rebellion, and many and varied were his experiences. In October, 1868, he was called to the combined pastorate of the churches of Martin's Ferry and Kirkwood, O., where he labored until May 4, 1881, at which time he accepted a call to his present charge. It was only a small mission when he came here, but by earnest, persevering work on the part of the pastor and people the church is now one of the most flourishing in the city.

Circuit Court.

In the circuit court yesterday before Judge Paul, the application on behalf of F. M. Kearns for a writ of habeas was denied.

The cases of Stender & Clendenning vs. Ohio River railroad, and Fred Stephens vs. Metropolitan Life Insurance Company were continued.

The case of the Kloives-Kraft Company vs. S. S. Bloch still drags its slow length along. The jury in the case will be adjourned over to-day until May 2.

New Superintendent.

The board of commissioners went out to the county infirmary yesterday for the purpose of considering the resignation of Superintendent H. E. Pebler. The resignation was accepted and the board immediately went into the election of his successor, which resulted in the selection of Capt. W. A. McCoy.

Specimen Cases.

E. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, Ohio, had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by Logan Drug Co.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

From the Groton, Connecticut, Review.

David Lewis, who has been afflicted all winter by rheumatism, is out again and all due to one of the medicines advertised in our columns. After trying everything possible, he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which has relieved him of all pain, from which he was a constant sufferer, and promises to make him fit for duty soon. We know David has been a great sufferer and are glad to see him around again.

MARTIN'S FERRY.

Haps and Mishaps in the Thriving City Across the River.

James A. Gray will entertain the Old Men's Club to-day, in honor of his seventy-ninth birthday. This is the fourth anniversary of the club. Three members of the club died the first year and none have died since. Those who have passed away are Joel Wood, John Armstrong and A. Kallston.

Heleen, the bright eight-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bold, residing on North Fifth street, died last evening at 5 o'clock of typhoid pneumonia. Daisy, their eight-year-old daughter, died only last year.

A general meeting of all the committees of Masons will be held at their hall at 8 o'clock this evening for the purpose of completing arrangements for the laying of the corner stone of the high school building.

The members of the Grocers Protective Association, now close their stores at 7 p. m. every day except Friday and Saturday.

The suit of Charles Frederick vs. the Etna-Standard Iron and Steel Company was continued until to-day.

Four men and one woman were sent to St. Clairsville yesterday, to serve out fines of twenty-five and costs.

At the meeting of council last night the Miller specifications for sewerage were adopted.

The Vigilant hose company will hold a lawn fete at Broadway park, May 21 and 22.

A number of flints are camping near Tiltonville, where the fishing is good.

George Riddle will engage in the plumbing business at Canal Dover.

A. G. Shaver and Ross Pickens drove out to Dillonvale yesterday.

Joseph Jacobs exhibits a pipe over fifty years old.

L. J. Millar returned yesterday from Sistersville.

BELLAIRE.

All Sorts of Local News and Gossip from the Glass City.

Senator Charles M. Hogg was in the city yesterday. He is gratified with the movement in Columbiana county looking toward the renomination of himself and Senator Wood, but is nettled at a trifle at the suggestion that his own county is not for him. He feels that he is all right at home.

Chris. Murray, one of the well known family of Murray brothers, died at the home of his father, James Murray, sr., in this city, early yesterday morning of typhoid fever. He was about forty years of age. The funeral will occur tomorrow morning. Interment at Mt. Calvary, east of Wheeling.

S. Q. Hamilton came in yesterday from an extended trip through the west and northwest for the Chelsea China Company. He had a fair trade on the trip, but says the foreign ware is found in places now where it was never seen before and it cuts out just that much American trade.

There are many who want to go to the Republican state convention now that it is not far away from the river. The committee are besieged with requests for places on the delegation. There are to be thirteen delegates and as many alternates.

Edward Wilson and John Lyons, the two strangers who were arrested at 3 o'clock in the morning in the rear of Licht's store, were let go by the mayor yesterday because he had no evidence to hold them, he thought.

The formal installation of Rev. H. A.

L. King, as pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will take place on Thursday evening. Services are being held at the church each evening this week.

Miss Nellie Stokes who has been visiting her uncle, John Parks, started for her home in London, England, yesterday, but will spend some time in New York before taking the steamer.

Mr. J. Gorby, who will leave Bellaire to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Thornberry, at Mansfield, has been engaged in business here for over forty years.

J. R. Anderson, teacher in the High school, was giving some of the pupils a sight of the heavens through a telescope Monday night.

C. H. Over left Monday night for his home at Muncie, Ind., with six car loads of material for a new window glass house.

The suit of the Barnard Brick Company against the electric street railway and others comes up in common pleas court to-day.

Thomas E. Booth, the well known wool buyer who was recently shot through the cheek, is able to be out again.

A number of the frame structures about the old Bellaire window glass works are being razed to the ground.

The first ball game of the season at the Island park attracted a big crowd from here yesterday.

Rev. J. F. Woods, of Mountsville, will preach in Trinity Episcopal church here this evening.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
